About the Module

Property Builder · https://extensionkit.unitfly.com/documentation/about-property-builder/

Create calculated properties whose value is the result of an SQL query or stored procedure. Module is configured by adding calculation rules in application configuration and selected properties are automatically converted to calculated properties. Currently, only SQL Server databases are supported.